

2008 DOT & OSHA Spring Training Programs Putting Safety First

The APA is pleased to offer a 2-day safety seminar that includes DOT Hazmat Training as well as instruction in workplace safety requirements under OSHA. This program is a “must” for first-time trainees and an excellent refresher for those who have been previously trained.

DOT Hazmat Training Program

This training program is mandatory under 49 CFR Parts 172-178 at least once every 3 years for anyone who handles, offers for transport, or prepares hazardous materials for shipment.

The APA program is unique in that it covers “fireworks specific” training in addition to general hazmat safety -- something not found anywhere else. Topics include: Classification of Fireworks Materials, Bills of Lading, Placarding, CDLs, and much more!

Special emphasis on transportation & facility security plans will be included in the training program in addition to transportation planning, proper loading & bracing.

OSHA General Industry Training Program

Instruction will be provided on an array of OSHA standards relevant to the fireworks industry and will include safety considerations unique to fireworks manufacturing and retail sales of consumer fireworks.

The program will include: Hazard Communication Standard (mandatory for all workplaces!); OSHA's Exit Route regulations, Electrical Standards, Personal Protective Equipment (PPE), and NFPA 1124 Code for the Manufacture, Transportation, Storage & Retail Sale of Fireworks & Pyrotechnic Articles - the code utilized by OSHA during inspections as minimum safety standards.
